Short description To save his best friend's pet from the dreaded Monster Patrol, Bulder has to learn how to accept his worst enemy. Will our lovable, yet rebellious monster friend complete his mission?

Short synopsis in English
(max. 800 characters)

The wild and funny monster Bulder lives happily in Dunderly, a secret hideout for monsters far away from people and the dreaded Monster Patrol. Bulder and his best friend Modika is training for the upcoming Monster Ympics. A great throw sends monsterball Turbo over the mountain edge. He is found by the Monster Patrols dog and is taken into captivity. Bulder is devastated that he lost his best friends pet and monsterball. One day a new monster arrives Dunderly. Mons monster. Bulder thinks he acts strange for a monster: he doesn't play, he takes lots pictures, and wants fur for his Friendsbook. Bulder's investigation discloses that Mons is actually an expert on humans, and Bulder gets an idea: he will befriend this strange monster so Mons can help him kidnap a human and arrange a swap between the human and Turbo.

In his efforts he finds out that you MIGHT find a friend where you didn't expect, and that kidnapping is far more dangerous than you'd think.
